Ruaha National Park is the largest Park in Tanzania and is located in the centre of the country. It lies in the convergence zone where northern and southern hemisphere birds and mammal species overlap, resulting in an overwhelming number of birds (530 recorded) plants (1400) and a large number of mammal species.

The Great Ruaha River is the lifeline of the park as it is its only permanent water source.

A full day game drive along the river takes you over rocky kopjes, home to the Greater kudu, Roan antelope and elephant, and winds down along the river bank through open plains, perfect for cheetah, herds of buffalo, warthogs, jackals, bated Foxes – the list is endless. The lion population here is now so large (largest in Tanzania) that they have gained film rights for their prowess at hunting Giraffe – which is not their traditional fare. The river banks are rich with birdlife, hippos and crocs. For the more adventurous, above the escarpment lives the more elusive Sable Antelope.

Ruaha also boasts a well-developed road network, with plenty of different routes to explore for morning game drives before returning to the lodge for lunch. Time spent on your veranda at the water's edge, or sitting in one of the 2 bar areas will be an equally enjoyable part of your safari here where the animals wander in front of your room to come down to drink. Finish off your day with an afternoon drive to the hippo pool and catch the African sunset over the plains.

After breakfast you will have the chance to enjoy one final game drive through Ruaha National Park, as you slowly wind your way to the airstrip for your flight back to Dar es Salaam.

Flight No 03 (times may vary with schedule requirements)
