NYERERE/SELOUS NATIONAL PARK

A guide from Rufiji River Camp will be at the airstrip waiting to greet you and take you on a game drive through the park before helping you check into your room.

You can spend your time at camp with a cold drink overlooking the river views, or relaxing beside the swimming pool.

In the afternoon you will go out and begin to explore Nyerere National Park (formerly known as Selous) with a game drive, before returning to camp at dusk - just in time to freshen up before drinks around the campfire.

This huge conservation area is a World Heritage Site with the plains north of the sprawling Rufiji River - a popular place for photographic safaris. The river is Tanzania's largest, and consists of a myriad of wide-open water, lakes and channels - allowing Foxes to offer the only boat safaris in Tanzania - in addition to the classic vehicle and walking safaris. Recently, this photographic region of Selous Game Reserve has been converted into a National Park called Nyerere, named after Tanzania's first elected president, Julius Nyerere, and is Tanzania's largest national park.

The night before, the manager will have discussed the options for today's safaris. Here's what you would be able to choose from to turn your bucket-list into a reality:

Nyerere National Park has the highest concentration of elephants of any one park in Tanzania and is estimated to have one-third of all Tanzania's African Hunting Dog. The landscape is predominantly flat and covered with miombo trees. Lions and leopards join the Hunting dogs as prevalent predators in the reserve and there is a good variety of prey animals from wildebeest and buffalo to smaller animals like warthog and impala. The river supports a rich and varied bird life, the banks providing a nesting spot for the bee-eaters and fishing grounds for Kingfishers.

After a morning activity and lunch, you will have the chance to enjoy one final game drive through Nyerere National Park, as you slowly wind your way to the airstrip for your flight back to the beaches of Zanzibar.
